Junior Chamber Drafts Program

A nine-point program for the recently organized Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce has been outlined by Secretary Sidney S. Donaldson. The Junior Chamber will undertake work on all phases of the program immediately he said.

Chief activity at present will be work toward interesting an aviation firm in locating at Torrance. Superiority of the local site and other features are being presented by the junior chamber members to all aircraft firms.

Local SWOC Lodge Has Float, Marchers in Labor Day Parade

Members of the Torrance C. I. O. unit, Milky Williams Lodge No. 1414, of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, marched with their impressive float entry in the C. I. O. Labor Day parade in San Pedro Monday. The float represented a gargantuan steel worker rising above towering smokestacks of an industrial plant resembling the Columbia Steel Company's buildings here.

It was estimated that 12,000 participated in the parade, members of some 73 organizations affiliated with the C. I. O.

Mrs. L. E. Wagner of the Carson apartments on Abalone street returned from an extended holiday trip to Redley, near Fresno, Monday night with a six-pound bunch of toky grapes, grown in a vineyard of friends there. She said a single bunch sometimes weighs as much as eight pounds in that area.

"IRENE" & FRIEND... That happy, carefree stage success, "Irene" has been perfectly filmed with a number of enchanting songs. The production opens this weekend at the Lomita theatre with a cast including Anne Neagle, Ray Milland, May Robson and Billie Burke. On the same bill is "Hot Steel," a thriller which was partially made at the Columbia Steel Company plant in Torrance.

Nurses Encounter Unwelcome Visitor On Vacation Trip

Vacationists meet many strangers and encounter many varied experiences during their annual holiday away from home. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nourse of 1428 Post avenue probably became acquainted with the most unusual stranger and had the weirdest experience of any Torrance vacationist.

They were staying at Camp Comfort near Ojai when a skunk, which had been wandering about near their tent during the daytime, made a return appearance at night. The Nourses heard the animal shuffling about and when a flashlight revealed his presence right beside their bed, they got out the other side.

Nourse tried to "shoo" the beast out of the tent without arousing any retaliatory moves from Mr. Skunk but he was unsuccessful so Mr. and Mrs. Nourse left the premises abruptly. Skunk worked leisurely around the tent until a ranger arrived to dispatch the unwelcome guest. The Nourses returned Sunday evening from a week's trip to Lompoc, Santa Barbara, Ventura and Wheeler's Hot Springs.

Riding Academy Gets Permit From Council

A permit was granted by the city council Tuesday afternoon for the establishment of a riding academy at 23124 Narbonne avenue in the rear of the McHenry residence. Adjoining residents and property owners signified the business would not be objectionable to them.

Western Improvement Sought as WPA Project

Approval of a number of W. P. A. projects in various sections of Los Angeles county has been asked by the Board of Supervisors by Wayne Allen, County Manager.

One of the projects is Western avenue's road construction in the Imperial boulevard area. The county's contribution toward this work would be $16,408.

The port of Montreal can accommodate 100 ocean steamers.
